

QUARANTINE LAWS ARE DISREGARDED

Mrs. Mary Amos Fined $10 and Costs For Visiting House in Which There is Diphtheria.

OTHER ARRESTS TO FOLLOW
Special Officer Placed on Duty to Discover Any Violations of Quarantine Rules.

Mrs. Mary Amos was arranged in Justice Congdon's court this morning upon a charge of violating quarantine laws, and upon a plea of guilty, was fined $10 and costs, amounting to a total of $18.30. The defendant, according to the affidavit, had visited several times recently at the home of a friend who had been placed under a strict quarantine for diphtheria.

There are several cases in the west part of the city in the vicinity in which Mrs. Amos lives and the health officers have been endeavoring to enforce the quarantine regulations as rigidly as possible in order to avoid a spread of the disease. Some time ago the secretary of the city health commissioners was informed that the rules of the quarantine were not being obeyed, and a special officer was placed in that part of the city to discover any violations of the rules. The residents there soon found that they were under the watchful eye of an officer and were careful not to visit at the quarantined houses when the officer was present.

A short time ago the secretary of the health board called at one of the homes under quarantine and while there saw Mrs. Amos leave the premises by the rear door. A warrant was immediately sworn out against her and she was placed under arrest. She admitted that she had violated the rules.

The health commissioners state that a good method to avoid the spread of a contagious disease is to maintain a strict quarantine and enforce the law which provides that no one in a home so quarantined shall leave the premises or enter the home unless they have the permission of the health officer or until the quarantine is raised. They declare that they will enforce these regulations and if any one hereafter is found violating them prosecutions will follow. The law provides that the board of health may employ special officers to watch the houses which are quarantined and that this will be done if the violations continue.

The penalty for violating the rules of the quarantine is not less than $10 and may be $200. To this fine the judge may also add a jail sentence. The laws of the state give the health board complete control over the regulation of quarantines.

It is understood that another arrest will be made within a short time for the same offense. The board of health is taking every precaution to prevent a spread of this disease, and will give close attention to the quarantine.

The health officers have been informed of several willful violations of the rules and they are determined that the offenders must remain away from the homes in which there are cases of diphtheria. It is said that a number of persons in that part of the city have boasted that they would not obey the rules and would visit the quarantined homes whenever they desired.

In one case where there are three children in the family, one of whom has diphtheria. The others visit the sick child each day, although the officers were told they would not be allowed to enter the house. When asked about the matter the parents admitted that they had permitted the violations.

MANAGEMENT OF HOSPITAL

Will Rest Largely With Physicians of The City.

The new hospital is rapidly nearing completion and within a short time will be turned over to the Board of Trustees when it will become necessary to provide for the furnishing and management of the institution.

The trustees are making an appeal to the various religious and fraternal orders as well as all charitably inclined citizens to put their shoulder to the wheel and help out in this matter. Several societies and individuals have signified their intention of furnishing a room. However, there still remains a few more rooms to furnish and it is confidently expected that others will come forward and furnish these.

The matter of management is one that will rest largely with the physicians of the city who have been invited to meet with the trustees at the Public Library this evening for a conference.

The trustees realize that the question of management is one of the most vital importance to the institution and are pursuing the right course in referring the matter to the physicians whose professional training and personal interest in the success of the institution will no doubt lead to the selection of a thoroughly competent management.

The profession of few cities in the state will have the advantage of such an excellent hospital as will that of Seymour. It is hoped that this fact will be thoroughly appreciated by every physician and citizen of the city.

MUST TRIM TREES.

Marshal is Serving Notices on Property Owners.

At the last meeting of the city council an order was passed that all shade trees along the sidewalks must be trimmed so that no branches will come within nine feet of the ground. Marshal Abell has been notifying property owners this week and though there have been some objections the order will be enforced. In some parts of the city the branches are so low that people have to stoop to pass under them. This is annoying and in addition the streets are in some sections made much darker at night.

Flower Party.

Miss Anna Carter entertained very delightfully Wednesday evening at her home on north Ewing street with a flower party in honor of Sergeant Cole, who will leave here Saturday. He has been in charge of the United States recruiting station here for several years. The house was artistically decorated with various kinds of flowers, and the evening was pleasantly spent with flower games and contests. Ice cream, in moulds of chrysanthemums, and cake were served.

SHERLOCK HOLMES

Reports the Names of Couple Married at the New Lynn.

Sherlock Holmes, with the able assistance of his companion, Dr. Watson, spent the greater part of Wednesday evening endeavoring to learn the names of the couple who were married at the parlors of the New Lynn hotel Wednesday evening. After investigation he found the bride was Miss Susan Wagoner, the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wagoner, of Commiskey, and the groom was Dr. A. E. Bannister, of Paris Crossing. They came here late Wednesday evening and by appointment met the minister from Paris Crossing at the New Lynn hotel. The bride's parents knew that the wedding was to be held, but the young people took this means to surprise their friends, who were prepared to give them a reception.

After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Bannister left for Indianapolis where they will visit for some time and will later spend several days in Ohio.

Shower.

Tuesday evening, Mrs. Ida Sandau and Mrs. Herbert Dell on N. Walnut street, entertained a company of young people in honor of Miss Evelyn Wood. A most unique program was arranged for the occasion, and after the amusement part of the program was completed, Miss Wood was made the recipient of a shower of elegant and dainty gifts, all of which were artistically arranged on the table, in the center of which sat little Miss Agnes Andrews, who performed the duties of Cupid in a charming way. The beautiful home of Mrs. Sandau was tastefully decorated and presented a scene of enchantment in itself. The young ladies of the Sewing Club, who are brimfull of suggestiveness, and awake to coming events, were present in a body and enlivened the occasion. Miss Hannah Mills favored the company with a few musical selections which were highly appreciated.

The refreshments served by the hostesses were very delightful and altogether the young ladies had a most enjoyable time.

Taxes Increased.

The town council held an adjourned meeting Monday night and made the tax levies for 1910. They found it necessary to increase the road levy from five to eight cents also a ten cent increase for hydrant and light, making a total increase of thirteen cents over last year. They refused to take any further action in the ten cent levy made by the library board, but that board has the right to certify their levy to the county auditor regardless of any action on the part of the town board, so with a ten cent library levy, there will be a total increase in our corporation tax of twenty-three cents.—Brownstown Banner.

Sowing of Wheat.

The Purdue experiment station sends out the warning about sowing wheat early and a well known firm publishes this note of warning. "We notice a great many people are hurrying their wheat seeding on account of soil. We think it advisable to caution your readers about hurrying the sowing of wheat as suggested by the agricultural experiment station at Purdue university, as the damage caused by the wheat straw fly the last year was the greatest in the history of the state and every precaution should be taken against the further increase of this pest. This can only be done by late sowing or burning the stubble, which is not advisable, if it can be avoided, as everything in the way of straw or other vegetable crops should be saved and utilized for the formation of humus in the soil. Late seeding is also desirable in order to avoid damage from the Hessian fly, which has also proved destructive to early sown wheat."

CHOICE RESTS
WITH MURPHYTammany Leader Said to Control Rochester Situation.

BUT HE IS SAYING NOTHING

With the General Opinion Expressed as New York State Democratic Convention Crowd Gathers That Murphy
Has the Saying of Who Shall Be Named to Head Ticket, That Leader
Says It is Up to the Delegates.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 29.—These are the candidates in the field for the Democratic nomination for governor, and it is likely that the names of most of them will be submitted to the convention: James S. Havens, Rochester; Thomas S. Osborne, Cayuga; Edward M. Shepard, Brooklyn; William Sulzer, New York; Justice James Gerard, New York; Martin Littleton, Brooklyn, and John A. Bensel, New York.

The choice rests with Charles F.
Murphy, the Tammany leader. He is the real state leader, and it is admitted by everyone here that the candidate he decides to support will be nominated. He has at least 186 votes behind him from New York, Kings, Queens and Westchester counties, and can also command the votes of the delegates from Chemung, Cattaraugus Warren, Dutchess and Chenago counties, which will mean that he will have more than a majority of the votes of the convention. Murphy, however, refuses to make the slightest intimation as to the man he is likely to support.
He is taking the stand that this is not a year for individual preferences and that the candidate to be picked for action by the convention should be the choice of the majority of the delegates of the convention.

The declination of Mayor Gaynor to accept the nomination was unexpected
by Murphy, Norman E. Mack, William J. Connors and other leaders who have been here. They frankly admitted that despite the mayor's Monday letter, in which he stated that he was not a candidate, they fully expected he would take the nomination if it should come to him.

At first blush, when the second letter was read on Tuesday, it was thought the mayor, knowing well, as does everyone who understands the policy that J. P. Mitchell, acting mayor, would take if he became the actual mayor, he really declined to take the nomination because of a feeling of faithfulness to his subordinates in the city government, nearly every one of whom would lose his head if left to Mitchell, and Mr. Mitchell has taken no particular pains to conceal this fact, either; but a good many of the politicians seemed to think that the Saratoga convention had a lot to do with the mayor's letter. The trend of their talk was that, aware that William R. Hearst would combine with Roosevelt against him, Mr. Gaynor had decided to quit, particularly as he would be handicapped in being unable to make a stump campaign because of the condition of his throat.

The issue seems to lie between Shepard, Havens and Osborne, and the indications are that Havens will have the greater number of votes tomorrow.
The managers of the Havens campaign say that even before Gaynor withdrew they were sure of 80 out of the 450 votes in the convention, and that as a result of later conferences with different county leaders they are now sure of 175 votes. Two hundred and twenty-six votes are required to nominate, and the confident assertion is made today by the Havens men that they will have no difficulty in swinging to their side the other votes needed to bring about the nomination of Havens.

In the case of the naming of Havens the second place on the ticket would of course go to a man from down state. Talk was heard that Mr. Sulzer might be induced to take the nomination for lieutenant governor. When Mr. Sulzer was asked as to this possibility he declined to commit himself.
There was also talk heard of Acting Mayor Mitchell and John A. Bensel, of the board of water supplies being nominated for second place, but all these reports were based on nothing more than speculation, and it is certain that every report which goes out of this town until Charles F. Murphy has made up his mind, will also be speculation. The situation here today may be properly described, as National Chairman Mack put it, as being entirely up in the air, but with Murphy in a position to control the convention and to dictate the nomination. State Chairman Dix said that he thought a ticket headed by Shepard and Havens would be a good one, but that combination was knocked in the head when Havens, on being informed of what Dix had said, remarked: "You can say for me that I will not take the second place on the ticket. Further, I have not the slightest doubt that I shall be the nominee of the convention for governor." It looks now as if the convention would wind up its business before late Friday afternoon. According to the present program, everything should be ready for the nomination of candidates and the balloting by Friday noon. There is no indication of a sharp clash on platform utterances, and there are no contest fights to take up time.

Plumbing Progress

What distinguishes the modern house of to-day from the homes of ten and twenty years ago? Not the architectural changes;

the number of rooms nor their size. The change that marks sanitary laws and contributing to good health,

are the most noteworthy improvements in housebuilding.

We are modern

MEDORA.

Floyd Zollman and wife visited Mrs. Elizabeth Zollman Sunday.

George Peck, of Louisville; Mrs. Pansy Knight, of Alabama, and C. G. Shortridge and wife, of Terre Haute visited Danel Peck Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Knight was formerly Miss Pansy Peck and a teacher in our schools.

Miss Wanda Cummings, of Houston, visited her grandfather, Dr. Cummings, over Sunday.

J. C. Weddell and wife visited Aunt Fannie Weddell Sunday.

The funeral of W. H. Shortridge was one of the most largely attended of any that has occurred here. It was held at the new Christian church, which he labored so hard and faithfully to erect. The services were conducted by Elder J. M. Cross, assisted by Elder Payne, of Brownstown. William Howard Shortridge was born February 3, 1836, near Houston. He had resided at and near Medora for about forty-five years. He was united in marriage to Rhoda Roberts February 27, 1857; to this union were born eight sons and three daughters, viz.: Lizzie Giddall, of Indianapolis; James H., of Ewing; Morton, of Bedford; Curtis G., of Terre Haute; George, who died in infancy; Willie Metta, of Medora; Minnie E. Weddell, of Medora; Albert E., of Vallonia; Charles T., of Mitchell, Wilson P., of Elkhart; Oliver O., of Medora. These, with one sister, Lottie Fisher, of Louisville, and a faithful and loving wife, survive him. Mr. and Mrs. Shortridge in their early life united with the Methodist church at Leesville and later transferred their membership to Weddellville. He was much impressed by the able preaching of Elder Wesley Hartley about 1885, and during a revival held in the K. of P. hall, February, 1909, conducted by Elder J. M. Cross, he and Mrs. Shortridge united with the Church of Christ. Brother Shortridge's life has been an example of highest moral and Christian rectitude. His oldest children stated that they had never heard him utter a profane or improper word. He shunned every form of vice and was firm and outspoken against intemperance. He followed the undertaking business for over forty years, until he sold out to Hague Bros., about four years ago. After an illness of only a week he died September 23, 1910, aged 74 years, 7 months and 20 days. At his request the burial services were conducted by the Medora lodge No. 328 F. & A. M., at Heighon Hill cemetery. The funeral services were held Saturday, September 24, 1910.

Mary V., wife of Hershel Payne, died at her home near Medora, Sunday, September 25, 1910. She was the daughter of Jonah Gilbert, of Pleasantville. The funeral services were conducted at Pleasant Ridge church, Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, by Elder Orebaugh.

Elder Cross will preach at the Christian chapel Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening; and Monday evening a series of revival meetings will commence, in which he will be assisted by Elder Harley Jackson. Let all who can possibly do so attend these meetings.

SEEK REPEAL OF THE OPTION LAW

Resolutions To That End Introduced In Labor Meeting.

INTERESTING FIGHT PROMISED

Representatives of the Cigar Makers' Union Demand That the State Federation of Labor Pass Resolutions Instructing Union Labor Men to Vote Only For Legislative Candidates Pledged to Repeal.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 29.—County option repeal came before the State Federation of Labor convention in the form of two sets of resolutions presented by delegates representing the Cigar Makers' union. The first set of resolutions emphatically protesting against the alleged economic injury done to the working man by the enactment of the county option law, which, the resolutions declare, has not done what its promoters claimed it would do, says: "It also makes criminals out of honest men; whisky drinkers out of beer drinkers." The second set of resolutions declaring for county option repeal follow the lines of the first set, but go further. They declare that the present option law was injected into political and public activity in Indiana for the express purpose of creating dissension and confusion among organized workers of the state. In conclusion, the second set of resolutions demands that union labor men vote only for those legislative candidates who pledge themselves to vote for the repeal of the law.

The two sets of resolutions were referred to the resolutions committee, and it is certain that a fight will be made on them in the convention.

Edgar A. Perkins, editor of the Union at Indianapolis, was elected president of the federation. His chief opponent was John Hughes, the incumbent, also of Indianapolis. Perkins won on the third ballot.

BETTER ROADS

County Commissioners in Session at Fort Wayne Considering Problem.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 29.—A movement for better roads and a uniform method of conducting county business are the big topics before the Indiana Association of County Commissioners in convention in this city. J. C. Crabill of Indianapolis, secretary of the Indiana bureau for good roads, presented a draft of a bill which has for its purpose the creation of a state highway commission and the utilization of convict labor in the manufacture of road material. This would abrogate the present law regarding convict labor, and the matter promises to precipitate a lively discussion. A similar bill drafted in 1903 died in committee in the legislature.

Fully 200 county commissioners are in attendance. Mayor Price delivered the address of welcome. The response was by President Louis P. Seeberger of Terre Haute.

The Talcotts have lived in Buffalo, Chicago and other cities and have been prominent since coming to South Bend, ten years ago. A son, Thaddeus M. Talcott, jr., is United States commissioner for the northern district of Indiana.

The divorce was asked on the grounds of cruelty and infidelity.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1910

If the ordinary individual could plaster his property with mortgages of the pattern of the those placed on their properties by some railway companies, he would be ready to retire. As a glaring illustration of this and of high finance the deal the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company of Indiana has been trying to put through is worth attention. The company bought at receiver's sale in June the Chicago, Cincinnati and Louisville railroad for $5,000,000 which was about half the decrepit property cost in the first place. Soon afterward the purchasers filed mortgages on the property for $40,000,00 to secure a bond issue for that amount. A mortgage for five times the cost of the property does not seem slow financing and certainly gives indication that many innocent investors are to be given the chance to buy some well watered stock. But the state authorities have started suits to revoke the company's charter, alleging that the company is a mere farce and was formed to evade Indiana laws and that the old C. & O. of Virginia is the real owner of the property. It is remarked by some writer that if the deal goes through that "presumably the next step of the C. & O. will be to raise freight rates in order to insure a fair return to stockholders." In the last Congress Senator Beveridge and others made a fight for further regulation of railroad capitalization as a step toward fairer regulation of rates. And on recommendation of the President, a commission was appointed to investigate and report on the regulation of the issuance of stocks and bonds of public service corporations doing an interstate business, all of which looks to the interest of the people.

A traveling man who has been well over the state was in Seymour today and said that everywhere indications of a big Republican victory were increasing and that during the last two weeks especially the confidence of the leaders in many counties had been growing as the work progressed. Reports coming from different sources coincide with this view. The party expects to gain several congressional seats.

Reports indicate that the thirteenth will elect Moorman; that Heaton is sure in the twelfth; Thompson in the eleventh and Neal in the ninth have the Democrats beaten. Crumpacker will have his usual majority in the tenth and Barnard is a sure winner in the sixth; the outlook for Warner in the eighth is good and the people are with Cox in the seventh; Tilley expects to sweep the fifth and Bland in the second is conducting a land slide. Posey has Boehne badly crowded in the first.

SENATOR CLAPP

In Lafayette Speech Paid Senator
Beveridge High Tribute.

(Special to The Republican.)

Indianapolis, Ind., September 29.—United States Senator, Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, one of the strongest Republicans in the Senate, aroused tremendous enthusiasm at LaFayette when in a speech he praised Senator Albert J. Beveridge for his part in the efforts to secure reforms from Congress. He declared that Senator Beveridge was the real leader of the progressive spirit which is now sweeping the land and congratulated Indiana on having him as its Senator.

Senator Clapp's recital of the history of Senator Beveridge's course in the Senate brought forth loud applause. He said:

"He championed the pure food law; the meat inspection law; the effort to make the tobacco trust pay its taxes; the effort to suppress the inordinate greed of the sugar trust, and was the conspicuous leader in the struggle still pending for the betterment of the childhood of the nation. We care but little what our opponents call us, and that there may be no misunderstanding we insist that these policies and this leadership of Senator Beveridge was Republican down to 1909; and if Republican then, is as absolutely Republican now."

"In the struggle for a tariff commission, even before it had taken much root among ultra-progressive Republicans, there was one champion who never wavered in his advocacy of it, and that was your senior senator, Albert J. Beveridge."

"Few men in public life have had the courage to advocate a measure as he has, and in addition to his courageous leadership, it is a splendid tribute to his statesmanship that today not only is the rank and file of the party in harmony with these things for which he stood, but even the men in high official station have been forced to acquiesce in the principles which he so fearlessly championed."

Senator Clapp pointed to the anti-trust law, the law to regulate the railroads, the railroad rate law and all the other Republican measures which were passed by Congress and which have made for the good of the people of the country, and he said:

"If the enactment of these beneficial laws was Republican at the time of their enactment it is Republican now."

He said also that the Republican national platform of 1908 declared in favor of a downward revision of the tariff, but that the reactionaries in Congress prevented the fulfillment of this promise.

"If that was Republican down to 1908 it was Republicanism in 1909 when we tried to revise the tariff downward in compliance with that promise, he declared."

Senator Clapp is spending the week making speeches in Indiana and his earnestness and ability are expected to do the Republican ticket much good wherever he speaks.

The Memory Machine.

Amnesia, or loss of memory, is chiefly interesting to the psychologists as throwing some light on the nature of memory itself. A perfect act of memory consists of three distinct acts—preservation or fixation of certain states of the nerve cells, reproduction of these and, perhaps most remarkable of all, recognition of them as reproductions in their relations. Morbid states of the memory may refer to any of these phases of an act which is as marvelous as anything in nature. There are about 3,000,000,000 nerve cells in the surface of the human brain. They never die in health, and they are never replaced or added to. This is memory's machine.

Preservative Peat.

Peat possesses wonderful antiseptic and preservative qualities owing to the presence of tannin, iron and other substances in it. Here is an instance: At the time of the covenanters, in 1685, three men were shot at a place called Crossgelloch on the moors above Old Cumnock, in Scotland. In 1825, when a monument was being erected to their memory, the workmen came upon the corpses rolled in their plaids. The bodies were in exactly the same state as when they were buried. The moss had preserved them as if they had been embalmed.

Burn the Smoke

When air strikes fire through the grate a heavy black or yellow smoke is formed. This air is combustible, but no amount of air, passed through the ashpit, will burn it. "Air Blast," "Hot Blast," and "Gas Burner" are three ways of naming the same process, which is to bring the heated air over the surface of the fire to meet with these gases. They ignite at once leaving only a thin gray smoke which is hardly perceptible.

Thomson's "Glove Fitting" Corsets

The name "Glove-Fitting" was given to these corsets when the first ones were made more than three generations ago. How long would the garments have maintained their popularity if they had failed to personify the name? Would the sale of a few hundreds during the first year back in the 'fifties have grown to several millions of today, except by virtue of Sterling worth in the goods?

His Conundrum.

It was during the prune course at the boarding house breakfast table. The thin man spoke:

"I've got a new one this morning. Why is a one cent stamp like a sloop?"

"Because," began the stenographer, with her eyes on the ceiling.

"No; that's not the reason," said the thin man.

"My guess is because a sale makes it go," suggested the fat boarder at the end of the table.

"Very good," said the thin man, "but not the correct answer."

"Well, we give it up," came in chorus.

"Because it's a single sticker," said the thin man as he began to dodge things.—Yonkers Statesman.

"Whuppity Scorie."

The ancient custom at Lanark, Scotland, of "Whuppity Scorie," the origin and meaning of which are lost, is celebrated annually and watched by a crowd of grownups. The town bell is rung nightly at 6 o'clock from March to September and then lies dumb for six months. On the first night of the ringing all the young folk congregate at the cross, and after parading three times round the parish church the Lanark lads meet the New Lanark boys in a free fight, in which the only legitimate weapons are their caps tied at the end of pieces of string.

BRYAN SCHEDULE; PIGS IN CLOVER

Taggart Places Speeches Far From Madding Crowd.

NEVER IN THE DANGER ZONE

Evansville, Indianapolis, Richmond and Washington voted "Safe," While Lebanon and Crawfordsville, Being Already Republican, Are Risked—Burlington, Edinburg, Owensville and Bloomfield Are Not Cities Where Publicity Is Dangerous.

The real triumph of Tom Taggart's career as a manipulator thus far is the schedule of Bryan dates in Indiana. Mr. Taggart tells the people Colonel Bryan is to address the people of many counties at Burlington. Now Burlington is of the railroad. But if they are so minded the people of several counties thereabouts can make their devils way to Burlington and imbibe new Bryanism from the Pluto bottle.

Then there is Owensville, which may be reached in one way or another, by people of at least two counties, if those people sincerely desire to hear a Bryan speech. Any good map will disclose Owensville to the Bryan hunter who is eager for the chase.

Edinburg, of all the lovely villages of the plain, is least accessible. But a determined voter, set on hearing Mr. Bryan speak, can reach Edinburg from some points by starting the night before and by taking a hack, stage, aeroplane or dirigible 'cross country.

Bloomfield is on a spur or branch road out of Bedford. Its single transportation facility locally is termed a "jerkwater." Yet the persevering voter, pursuing with due agility and not averse to hitting the pike on foot or horseback, can very successfully connect with Bryan at Bloomfield if an early start is made. Incidentally Mr. Bryan is not likely to affect Bloomfield neighborhood seriously, no matter what he may say.

Crawfordsville, Lebanon and Washington are in localities lost to Democrats already through local factional strife and anti-Taggart revolt. So a little Bryanism, more or less, won't hurt.

Anyone who knows conditions in Evansville, Richmond and Indianapolis, Mr. Bryan's other speaking places, will realize that the Taggart men have chosen the lesser of many evils in sending him there.

The Taggart people did not dare send Mr. Bryan to Muncie, Anderson, Marion, Lafayette, Wabash, Warsaw, South Bend, Gary, Terre Haute or other important manufacturing centers where the lines are drawn in favor of protection, and on local issues as well.

Taken all over, it may be said the Taggart committee got around the Bryan problem as well as possible, so far as his schedule is concerned. The problem of what Mr. Bryan shall say and what he should not say yet remains to be solved. In view of the fact that Bryan has bolted the head of the Democratic ticket in Nebraska, a decidedly puzzling and novel situation arises. How will Mr. Bryan and Mr. Taggart meet it?

No doubt they will be able to get together in Room No. 27, the Denison hotel, and adjust such minor matters to the satisfaction of Taggart.

LABOR LEADER OUT

FOR A. J. BEVERIDGE

William Dobson, secretary of the Bricklayers' and Masons' International Union of America, with headquarters in Indianapolis, is a Democrat who is out working for the Republican legislative ticket because he desires the return of Senator Beveridge to the senate. He says he is for Beveridge and that labor men can not afford to be otherwise. He declared:

"I am a Democrat, but I am independent when it comes to voting for the man who makes good in the service of all the people. I like John Kern personally. I would be glad to see him promoted to office. But I am for Senator Beveridge. The election of Mr. Kern or any other man to office against Senator Beveridge would mean in effect that the people intend to punish him for working in the people's cause. I do not think we can afford to permit Mr. Beveridge to be punished for doing right. I take it that there would be small encouragement for the honest and zealous public servant in such a result in the Indiana election this year. I am working for the election of the Republican legislative ticket. A Republican legislature will re-elect Senator Beveridge. A Democratic legislature would defeat him. I believe Senator Beveridge will be re-elected. The people are for him. The people will see to it that he gets a square deal."

CUBA'S NEW WHITE HOUSE TO COST HALF MILLION.

National Lottery Surplus to Be Utilized For Construction.

The president of Cuba has appointed a board of government officers to consider plans for constructing the new presidential palace provided for under the recent appropriation of $500,000 from the lottery surplus. Those appointed on the board are the secretary of public works, the chief of the bureau of civil constructions, the chief of the department of public works, the chief engineer of the city of Havana, the chief of the bureau of sanitary engineering of the department of sanitation, the professor of the architectural school of the University of Havana, the director of the San Alejandro Academy of Paintings and the chief of the bureau of beaux arts of the department of public instruction.

It is expected that the building, if constructed, will cost much more than the sum named, and it is stated that this is simply the preliminary appropriation.

The board will meet soon to invite the submission of plans, but it is probable that the competition will be limited to Cuban architects and that as far as possible Cuban materials will be specified for the building. The site probably will be that of the Villanueva railroad station now exchanged for the arsenal property.

CARS USED AS PARK BENCHES

Washington Visitor Discovers New Benefit In Trolley.

A new use, according to a voracious Washington visitor from some center of more fevered life, has been discovered in the Capital City for the common trolley car. Everybody knows that from a point in front of the treasury certain G street cars start every once in awhile for places in the suburbs and elsewhere. The recognized custom of those who wish to use these cars is to go there and get aboard one that you find waiting and sit patiently till it starts.

The visitor reports that he proceeded according to rule. He found a car waiting, got aboard and waited with it. There were several others in like case, and the patience of the assembly was taxed some twenty minutes before the conductor, who had been talking with the motorman, came along and jangled the go ahead bell. At the sound two men who had been engaged in eager conversation at the remote end of the car got up in quite leisurely fashion and descended to the street.

"Your beautiful and dignified city," said the visitor, "is the first that I have seen in which the inhabitants use the street cars as park benches are commonly used—as places for rest and conversation. I suppose that long experience enables you to know exactly what cars to sit down in for a good long chat."

"Perhaps certain cars are reserved for the purpose, but if so there should be signs to warn the stranger. In my own severely utilitarian town they put up the placard 'Waiting Car' when in cold weather one is being used as a substitute for a nonexistent station. Yours might be labeled 'Rest Cars' or 'Thirty Minutes For Conversation' or something like that."

THIRD CLASS TOTAL DROPS.

England Notes Falling in Cheapest Railway Tickets.

The first recorded decrease in British third class railway passengers took place in 1909. The actual figures are very striking, the passengers carried during the year with the decrease on the numbers for 1908, exclusive of season ticket holders, being:

	Decrease.
First class	23,416,000 1,472,000
Second class	30,736,000 2,233,000
Third class	1,204,869,000 8,285,000

Totals

Since 1905 there has been a falling off of nearly 22,000,000 in the number of second class passengers, and first class passengers have decreased by 7,000,000.

The decrease in third class figures in 1909, the first ever recorded in these official returns, is held to be due largely to the fact that the Franco-British exhibition in London in 1908 attracted many more visitors than the exhibition held on the same site last year.

PREFERS ARMY TO BASEBALL

Pitcher Thinks Officer's Orders Easier Than Those of Umpires.

The regulations of the United States army are infinitely preferable to the man handling rules of organized baseball, in the opinion of Washington Johns, late pitcher of the Knoxville and Atlanta teams. Johns recently boarded a fast train for the Columbus (O.) barracks to re-enlist in the army.

"It's this way," Johns explained. "Uncle Sam's army takes better care of a man than he gets from a baseball team management. Jumping around from town to town, sleeping on trains and eating at the mercy of hotels. When it comes to taking orders, give me an army officer instead of an umpire any time."

Lieutenant Simington laughed, reached for the records and some blanks, and in a short time Johns was again a private.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

The Beveridge Keynote Arouses Party to Enthusiasm.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, Sept. 29.—Indiana Republicans have struck into their forward marching stride. When Senator Beveridge, sounding the campaign keynote, made it plain that progressive Republicanism is the great constructive force back of the fight, even as progressive Republicanism was back of emancipation, the homestead law, the resumption of specie payments, the pension laws, and the great remedial and beneficent statutes of more recent years, he struck a responsive chord. Senator Beveridge's speech in Indianapolis last Tuesday night was not only courageous and eloquent, but it was filled with logic, reason and hard facts for the voters to consider. Needless to say Senator Beveridge splendidly justified progressive Republicanism by pointing to its works. He described himself as a Lincoln protectionist. He quoted Lincoln, Grant, Blaine, Garfield, McKinley and Roosevelt to define the progressive Republican position. And the people cheered not only the revered names but the principles which the speaker enunciated and supported. Senator Beveridge spoke to a remarkable audience which jammed Tomlinson hall, with hundreds standing and unable to find seats. It was a thoughtful, intelligent, keen and enthusiastic crowd. Those who listened to Beveridge followed his words with care and weighed his sentences. It was an epochal meeting. It was a campaign opening which is destined to be historic. It was a tribute to Beveridge and to progressive Republicanism.

Observers are figuring on the probable effect on Indiana independents of the amazing magazine rally for the cause of Senator Beveridge. The leading periodicals of the nation are out in their October numbers with splendid endorsements of Senator Beveridge, and with keen reviews of the Indiana situation, describing it, generally, as the most important of all the state elections of the year. Never in the history of politics has there been such a consensus of opinion in favor of a public man. Never has there been such a concentration of the powerful great agencies of public thought in behalf of any party cause or personal candidacy. William Allen White discusses the Indiana situation in the American magazine. A. W. Little and David Graham Phillips have a prominent place in Pearson's magazine, with an article on Beveridge. Mr. Little discusses the issue. Mr. Phillips gives a character sketch of the man. Mr. Phillips, famous as a writer of novels, knew Beveridge in college. He writes with feeling and understanding. His story of Beveridge in college ought to be read by every young man in the United States. Phillips, in agreeing to break a rule and write the Beveridge sketch, said: "I stipulate that the work is to be one of love and not for pay." And this in part explains why the magazine stories of Beveridge appear. There is devotion to the cause for which Senator Beveridge stands, and there is personal affection for Beveridge himself. No public man has received finer tribute in recent years than that which is offered by the magazines to Beveridge.

The last number of the Saturday Evening Post editorially urges the importance of re-electing Senator Beveridge, and points to the contest in Indiana as the most significant of these times. Other magazines have prepared or are preparing articles and character sketches, and many periodicals of smaller circulation will take an interest in the Beveridge campaign and lend aid to the cause of the people.

John E. Reed, Republican candidate for auditor of state, who has been up and down the state, reports that Senator Beveridge and the legislative ticket are strong factors in the campaign. He finds the independent voters rallying back of Beveridge and espousing progressive Republicanism as it is laid down in the state Republican platform, and as it is expounded by Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Reed says he has found not only independents but Democrats who were determined to aid Beveridge and the Republican cause.

He tells of one case where a Democrat precinct committeeman, and state delegate to the Democratic state convention, is at the head of a movement which has already tendered the use of seven vehicles to help get out the Beveridge vote. State and congressional candidates and the organizers everywhere report the same thing. Labor men are found to be warm for Beveridge in all parts of the state, and these labor men do not talk of party lines. They believe in Beveridge and they are grateful to him for what he has done. They stand for the things he stands for, and they want him to win. For they feel they have a part in his victory.

Taxi Caught by Train.

Pongheepsie, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Their taxicab struck by a Central New England railroad train, Edward S. Atwater, president of the Farmers and Manufacturers bank; George Cornwell, vice president of the Poughkeepsie Savings bank, and George Key, chauffeur, lie in a precarious condition in a hospital. Atwater, who is sixty-five years old, has a fractured skull and his left leg is broken.

REPUBLICANS ON SIDE OF LABOR

Senate Like a Rock Against Democratic Bosses' Scheme.

INDUSTRIAL VOTE MENACED

How Notorious Clark Bill Was Called Out by Republicans and Killed by Republican Votes—How Democrats Were Put on Record as Foes of Industrial Voters in 1909.

Labor men say the most obnoxious anti-labor bill offered at the 1909 session of the legislature was the Clark bill providing for registration of voters and for an election day catechism to be applied to labor voters by anti-labor challengers at the polls. One of the features especially noted was the list of 88 questions to be answered by the voter who happened to be in the power of the challenger. The bill, as was openly declared, was intended to disfranchise industrial voters in such counties as Lake, Marion, Vigo, Vanderburgh, Laporte and elsewhere. Democratic politicians who urged the passage of the measure, built on it to enable them to carry Indiana in 1910, where they had failed to turn the trick in 1908.

Republicans in the senate forced the Clark bill out for a test, to put the Democrats on record. Some Republicans coming early in the roll call, voted "aye" to help the game along. But 22 of the 24 votes cast for the measure were those of Democrats. Kistler and Stotsenberg, leaders, were able to rally the Democratic vote solidly for the bill, but it lacked a constitutional majority. Twenty-three Republicans voted against it, and all were against it, in fact.

In the house Representative Faulkner offered the infamous bill. Tom Brolley, then a representative, now the candidate on the Democratic ticket for state statistician, obtained a favorable report on the bill by a Democratic majority of the committee on elections. But in view of the fact that a Republican senate stood between the wage-earner and the schemes of the Democratic tricksters, the gang put off the nefarious scheme until later in the hope that they might gain control. A vote for a Democratic legislator is a vote for the infamous Clark bill to intimidate and disfranchise labor.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me.

"I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains.

"A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Women's pains are relieved or prevented and women's strength is quickly restored, by Cardui, the woman's tonic. You yourself know best if you need it, or not.

If you do need it, do not delay, but commence to use it at once. Every day of delay, only lets you slide further down the hill.

Don't wait, then, but begin to take Cardui today, for its use, no matter how prolonged, cannot harm you and will surely do you good.

CHARLES F. MURPHY

Tammany Leader Who Holds Control of Rochester Convention.

BERLIN RIGOROUSLY GUARDED FROM RIOT

Extraordinary Severity of Police Measures.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—One of the strangest features of the present conflicts between the police and workmen is that nobody is able to clearly explain the cause.

Instances of the severity of the police in handling the mob are countless. In one case a boy of sixteen, who had no part in the trouble, but was returning to his home from confirmation, became mixed up in a crowd of rioters, and one of his arms was almost lopped off by a blow from a sword. Parts of some sidewalks were covered with pools of blood. The slightest remonstrance meant being cut down. The damage done in the strike district is roughly estimated at $150,000. The police are armed with axes for the purpose of breaking into houses from which shots are fired or missiles thrown at them.

NAMED TICKET

Stimson Leads Republican Forces in the Empire State.

Saratoga, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The Republican convention at its final session last night nominated the following: For governor, Henry D. Stimson of New York; lieutenant governor, Edward Schoenck of Syracuse; secretary of state, Samuel S. Koenig of New York; comptroller, James Thompson of Valley Falls; state treasurer, Thos. Fennell of Elmira; attorney general, Edward R. O'Malley of Buffalo; state engineer and surveyor, Frank M. Williams of Oneida; associate judges of the court of appeals, Irving G. Vann of Syracuse.

Mr. Root called the final session of the convention to order shortly after 6 o'clock last night. There were no more skyrockets, no more fuss and feathers, but all hands got down to business, as a vast majority of the delegates wanted to start for home at 10 o'clock. There was only one roll call, all the offices save that of governor being filled by acclamation. Mr. Stimson's nomination for governor was opposed by the name of Representative W. S. Bennet, who received 242 votes to Stimson's 646; scattering, 73. The Roosevelt direct primaries platform was adopted 606 to 403.

Jessie Morrison Out of Prison.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 29.—Jessie Lee Morrison, who was paroled from the state penitentiary by Governor Stubbs, after having served eight years of a twenty-five-year sentence for killing Mrs. Olin Castle, her rival in love, at Eldorado, Kan., ten years ago, left the prison for Excelsior Springs, Mo., where she will make her home with her sister.

WHITE'S STORY WAS CUT SHORT

All His Conversation With Others Ruled Out.

HOLSTLAW TELLS HIS STORY

Former State Senator Who Told Prosecutor at Springfield of His Connection With the Lorimer Candidacy and of His Having Received $2,500 For His Vote, Followed White on Stand in Senatorial Investigation.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Another victory has been won by Senator William Lorimer at the hearing of a committee of seven United States senators of charges that the Illinois senator won his seat by means of bribery.

All evidence with regard to White's conversation with other legislators by which Attorney Alfred S. Austrian, representing the Chicago Tribune and the Legislative Voters' League, hoped to get before the committee details of the alleged source of the so-called Lorimer fund, was ruled out flatly by the committee. No evidence in any way relating to Representative White's conversation or associations with others was permitted by the committee. A continued grilling of White by Attorney Haney, in an effort to impeach the witness was varied by an occasional wordy duel between Attorneys Haney and Alfred Austrian.

Former State Senator D. W. Holstlaw of Iuka, who confessed to State's Attorney Burke of Sangamon county having taken a bribe of $2,500 from State Senator John Broderick of Chicago for voting for Lorimer for United States senator, took the stand late in the day. Holstlaw at once went into details regarding Lorimer's election. "I met Broderick May 25, the day before Lorimer was elected," Holstlaw declared. "He said to me, 'We're going to elect Lorimer tomorrow, aren't we?' I answered that I thought so and would vote for him. Then Broderick told me there was $2,500 in it for me. I came to his saloon in Chicago, June 16, and collected the money. Before any proposition had been made to me I had decided to vote for Lorimer."

Re-cross-examination of Charles A. White by Attorney Haney was then continued. White stoutly maintained that he had received in all $1,900 in bribes, $1,000 for voting for Lorimer and $900 from the "jackpot."

Overruled Motion to Quash.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 29.—Judge Thompson in the Sangamon circuit court overruled the motion to quash the indictments in the two cases of Archibald B. Johnston of this city, charging bribery and perjury. Johnston was indicted on the charge of bribing Senator D. W. Holstlaw of Iuka, to award the contract for furnishing desks and chairs for the capitol to the Ford & Johnson company of Chicago, and on the charge of perjury, it being alleged that he denied in court an attempt to bribe.

Chairman New York State Democratic Committee.

THEY ADOPT A MOST RADICAL PLATFORM

Wisconsin Republicans Have Gone the Limit.

Milwaukee, Sept. 29.—The most radical platform ever adopted by any state Republican convention was adopted late yesterday at the closing of the state convention. LaFollette for president in 1912 is the spirit of the introduction, and other features of the platform are:

Condemnation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, physical valuation of railroads and more stringent regulations of them, initiative and referendum and recall, graduated income and home rule in the liquor traffic, national control of natural resources, allowing of combinations of farmers and trades unions to raise prices, condemnation of the pernicious activity in the recent primary campaign of the brewery corporations, insurance concerns and the binding twine trust, employers' liability laws, condemnation of the suppression by special interests in congress of the investigations of country life commission, regulation of working hours of women and children.

The platform adopted by the Democratic state platform convention is practically the same as the original "Schmitz" draft with the addition of three planks, one strongly opposing county option, another favoring changes in the existing primary law to make it "more expressive of the free choice of the people," and another favoring the passage of the "dollar a day" pension law for veterans of the civil war by the national congress. An attempt to add a plank favoring the election of postmasters by popular vote was defeated.

Preferred Death to Prison.

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 29.—Charged with appropriating jewelry, C. L. Frazier, sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, committed suicide by taking poison. A negro trusty admitted having bought the drug for Frazier. Frazier had served sentences, one for safebreaking and one for housebreaking.

Prominent Citizen Murdered.

Danville, Ill., Sept. 29.—Charles Bordolo, a prominent citizen, was found dead with a stab wound in his side, in the rear of a blacksmith shop. William Niccum, a laborer, with whom Bordolo had previously had a fight, has been charged with the crime. Bordolo was forty-five years old and married.

Throwing the Dart.

Throwing the dart is a picturesque custom which is observed in Cork, Ireland. Every third year the chief magistrate proceeds to the mouth of Cork harbor in full state. Following immemorial custom, he throws a dart into the sea—a dart with a head of gold and a shaft of mahogany—saying, "I cast this javelin into the sea and declare that as far around as it falls extend the right and dominion of the corporation of Cork to and over the harbor as well as the rivers, creeks and bays within the same."

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girls Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed by a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25 cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy. Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

A Story of Old Ironsides.
One of the most famous of the Constitution's exploits was during the war of 1812, when she escaped from Broke's squadron, among which she had accidentally fallen. The sea was almost a dead calm, so Captain Hull had to resort to towing. All her boats were lowered, with long lines attached, and in addition Hull had ropes spliced together to make a line half a mile long, to which he attached a kedge anchor. This was carried in a boat half a mile ahead and dropped, when the crew hauled the ship rapidly forward. The commodore of the English squadron soon adopted the same tactics, and if it had not been for a breeze springing up the Constitution would have been captured.

INTROSPECTION.

One can accomplish but comparatively little when all is said, for, make no mistake about it, however much we may pose and strut in the outside world, in the solitude of our own studies there are few of us but know how the faults and blemishes of our craft stand boldly out and stare us in the face to remind us that we are small enough and halting enough to be always learning, never quite gloriously achieving.

THE ZENITH OF STOVE PERFECTION.

The Hot Blast Air-Tight Florence will heat twice the space that can be heated by any other stove on earth at one-half the cost.

The TRIUMPH
Air Blast

Is the latest and greatest invention for producing heat from soft coal. Practically all fuel can be turned into heat and utilized in the room—no waste of gases, no waste of soot, no waste by having ashes banked against the fire pot. When we say we can save you one-third of your fuel bill is putting it mildly. The construction of the fire pot is so arranged that its radiation surface is double that of any other soft coal stove made. It is the only fire pot where it is absolutely impossible for ashes to bank against; the only fire pot where hot air has a complete circulation from top to bottom. The perfect fitting ash pit door, the ball bearing grate, the solid cast body are all features worth your while to consider in buying a stove. We will be glad to demonstrate the construction of the Triumph Air Blast and prove up what we say.
